

Dear Honeywell Customers,

UPDATE April 9th, 2021: All mobile applications have been updated/released and are now available for download!

We're committed to helping our customers/partners maintain the security of our products and their aircraft and frequently provide software updates for existing, fielded products to keep pace with current technological advances. We have updated a number of mobile applications that were taken offline Tuesday, March 30th.

The following versions of the mobile applications have been taken offline:

| Mobile Application | Discontinued Version |
|--------------------|---------------------------|
| IDM | iOS v4.0.6 – v4.0.5 |
| IDM | Windows v4.0.7 – v4.0.0 |
| Data Manager | Windows v4.7.0 or earlier |
| OneNav+ | Windows v2.9.0 or earlier |
| MxAdvisor | iOS v1.1.0 or earlier |

If you are using any of the applications referenced above, you will be required to update to a version listed in the table below.

| Mobile Application | Versions Supported | Release Date | Location of Software |
|--------------------|--------------------|--------------|---|
| IDM | iOS v1.7 | Current | Apple Store |
| IDM / JDM | Windows v3.4.5.4 | Current | https://inds.epicinds.com/epic/login |
| IDM | iOS v4.0.8 | Available | Apple Store |
| IDM | Windows v4.0.8 | Available | https://inds.epicinds.com/epic/login |
| Data Manager | Windows v5.0.0 | Available | https://ads.honeywell.com |
| OneNav+ | Windows v2.10.0 | Available | https://ads.honeywell.com |
| MxAdvisor | iOS v1.2.0 | Available | Apple Store |

While this should be a straightforward update, it may cause temporary disruptions for some customers. We're committed to limiting and mitigating any issues and are available to assist as needed.
